

70th Anniversary of Academician Krassimir Atanassov

Topic Editor of the International Journal Bioautomation

On March 23, 2024, Prof. Krassimir Atanassov reached the age of 70. Prof. Atanassov is the founder of the theories of generalized nets, intuitionistic fuzzy sets, index matrices, as well as of the intercriteria analysis approach to support decision making, all of which have found numerous applications in different areas like medicine, biology, chemistry.

The research achievements of Prof. Atanassov are internationally recognized and published hundreds of scientific articles and books which give him a leading place among Bulgarian scientists in the Stanford/Elsevier list, highlighting the top 2% of the most cited scientists across the globe. For his eminent scientific achievements, in 2021 Prof. Atanassov has been elected as an Academician of the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences.

The Journal Editorial Board congratulates Acad. Atanassov with his 70th anniversary and wishes him a lot of health and creative inspiration for new scientific achievements!

Prof. Mikhail Matveev, on behalf of the Editorial Board of *International Journal Bioautomation